

International SAR course

Aboa Mare offers an international SAR course of five-day duration

SAR (Search and Rescue) is not a daily business for persons working at sea. The majority of officers will not even get in touch with SAR incidents. If an incident occurs on the own ship or any other ship in distress requesting for assistance, initial measures have to be taken instantaneously.

How to give response?

ABOA MARE arranges an international SAR course for the international shipping market. This course improves participants' SAR-knowledge, leadership skills, and competences to act as an On Scene Coordinator during basic SAR operations conducted in close co-operation with the MRCC. The course fulfills the IAMSAR Manual and is intended for captains, senior officers and coast guard officers.
